Everything (Ring All the Bells)
Julia Bloom (juliabloom.org)
Solo a cappella - melody starts on B https://soundcloud.com/julia-tindall-bloom/everything-ring-all-the-bells

Ring all the bells that ever were, and are, and ever shall be
All that is fading, dying, falling, will land upon the light
Let the frozen thaw, let the dry seeds crack, let the ancient ones be born
All that is waiting, crying, calling, will make it through the night.

Everything that flies on broken wings
Everything that sorrowfully sings
Everything that hurts with hope and love
Everything that's aching to become Everything will breathe everything will be

Speak every name that ever was and is and ever shall be
All that's been hushed, ignored, forgotten, remembers the way home
Let the truth be told, let the tyrant rest, bring the wounded warrior peace
All that is crushed, war-torn, downtrodden, will rise from patient stone